Collectively, we don't seem to learn that all it takes to transform an ordinary politician and a braying ass into the modern incarnation of Zeus and the oracle of Delphi is an oath on the Bible, a flag in the lapel, and the invocation of national security.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

A German scientist from Argentina, after a lengthy study, has discovered that people with insufficient brain activity read their email with their hand on their mouse. Don't bother taking it off now, it's too late.

I just read that Jesse Helms is dead. Speaking as a proud North Carolinian, that's the best news I've heard in years.

When I was asked about the price of gasoline in Thailand, my initial response was that I haven't bought any since December 8, 1999, plus the price is in baht per liter. I only know it costs enough to cause big problems. But now I have a better answer. US$4.58 per gallon, or US$1.21 per liter if you prefer that measurement.

In order to compare world gas prices, we have to have a common unit of measurement, so http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Gasoline_usage_and_pricing#Average_gasoline_prices_around_the_world has translated everybody into US dollars. At a glance, I see Sierra Leone at number one with $18.43 per gallon and Venezuela down at only $0.19 per gallon. Wow.

Speaking of gas prices, you can learn about a cardboard bicycle at <http://www.shu.ac.uk/art/design/news/cardboardbike.html>

I read that it's possible to lead a cow upstairs, but not downstairs. If you've tried this, please let me know where your cow is now.

I read that turtles can breathe through their butts. Who did this study? How? Why?

The first US president whose name contains all the letters of the word "criminal" was Richard Millhouse Nixon. The second was William Jefferson Clinton. If she wins an election, Hillary Rodham Clinton will be third.

My experience with Mr. LaRocca is that he always respected the integrity of the author's work. While he corrected problems, he never tainted the natural "flavor" of the author's narrative. As an author, that meant a lot to me. I've worked with Mr. LaRocca on two occasions, and he always delivered a quality product in a timely fashion. He makes excellent use of his time. His winning sense of humor makes him very personable--which is quite a feat, when you're just communicating via email. I would recommend Mr. LaRocca for any editing position without hesitation.
